Alden P. Ricks, called "Cappy" by his friends is the president of all Blue Star Navigation Company of San Francisco. "Cappy" is a fat, peppery, old man who at heart is very kind and generous, he worships his daughter, Florence, a charming girl of twenty, and his home, which is run by his maiden sister, is a very happy one.

Just now "Cappy" is very much excited over the "nerve" of Matt Peasley, a fine young man who is a new mate for the company and according to a cablegram just received, has knocked out a captain and taken command of the boat on the coast of Africa.

"Cappy" would be furious if he knew that Matt had met Florence on a yacht which he had assisted to shore, and that for love of Florence, he had taken the position of mate in "Cappy's" company. "Cappy" does not know that Matt is the son of an old pal of his who was lost at sea--so he is impatiently waiting to get hold of "The fresh young scamp."

Cecil Barnard is in love with Goldie a chorus girl in a New York show, and to break up the affair his father sends Cecil to his old friend "Cappy". Goldie learns of his going, rushes off to San Francisco and has a job in "Cappy's" office when Cecil arrives.

Cecil soon tells Florence about his beloved Goldie, and Florence confides in Cecil, telling him about her love for Matt. They become good friends and "Cappy" thinking Florence will be fascinated with this chap from New York decides to send Cecil on a job down the coast. Florence is in the office when Cecil gets his orders. Just at this minute Matt walks in with the captain, who insists that Matt be punished, altho Matt's good judgment has brought the cargo to port in record time.

"Cappy" orders the arrest of Matt and tauntingly asks if he is afraid.

we don't know the meaning of that work in Thomaston, Maine," Matt Replies. Thru this remark "Cappy" learns who Matt is, almost kicks the captain and the other officers out of his office, and begins loading Matt with favors, telling him that he can have his captain's papers at once.

"Cappy" to discipline Matt, orders him out with a cargo of ceosote and sends him insulting telegrams all because he has noticed Matt's attentions to his beloved daughter, Florence. Get most of "Cappy's" employees; and Matt makes money by buying some of "Cappy's" old ships.

Matt does not know about Goldie, so thinks Florence, is the object of Cecil's love, treats Florence very coolly.

"Cappy" feels quite beaten by Matt until Matt fails to collect for the ships and so cannot pay him. Later Matt can pay but finds out that "Cappy" has willed him his business so Matt wins Florence with "Cappy's" blessings.
